

Social script- Meeting someone New

We meet new people all the time. We meet students and new staff.

I am going to meet new people after I graduate.

When I see someone knew that I want to get to know, I can say:

"Hi, my name is Rebecca. What is your name?"

They will share their name, and then I can say:

"It's nice to meet you!" This makes people feel happy and helps make friends.

Finally you can ask get to know you questions and listen for answers. Asking questions and adding thoughts help people make friends.

Some questions are:

How are you doing today?

What do you like to do at your program?

What is your favorite food?

What are your favorite hobbies?

What music do you like?

It was good talking with you. I'll see you later!
